

"There's no place like home"

Patients receiving home health services are less likely to return to the hospital after discharge, heal more quickly and experience fewer complications.

Home health care is usually less expensive and can often be just as effective as care in a hospital or skilled nursing facility. And just as important, most patients and their families prefer to stay at home rather than be in a hospital or a nursing home.

Each member of the team shares responsibility and contributes to the treatment plan, to delivering the highest quality services with compassion and respect.
