Hospice nurses are skilled in assessing and managing a patient's pain and symptoms. Hospice nurses comfort the family while also teaching them how to take the best care of their loved one.

Social Work & Bereavement

Social workers coordinate the patient's care, funeral planning, and other tasks. They provide emotional and psychosocial support, and offer grief and bereavement support.

Spiritual Activators

Chaplains provide spiritual support for patients and their families with illness, loss, or death. They can provide support for people of all cultures, beliefs, and traditions.

Hospice Aides

Hospice aides provide care to patients in their homes or assisted living facilities, helping with personal care needs and developing close relationships with patients and families.

Volunteers

Our Volunteer Manager links up interested volunteers with opportunities like Companion Visits, Pet Companion Visits, and Sharing Talents.

Massage & Music Therapy

Massage therapy can help hospice patients cope with the uncertainty of their future. Serotonin is released in the brain which impacts thoughts and emotions, creating a sense of peace.

What people say about our care:

My dad was on hospice with this company for almost 2 weeks before his passing. All of the staff we interacted with during that time were great. They got us the supplies that we needed and were there anytime we had a question. My family especially wants to thank the nurse Kellie. She was available when we needed her, educated us on the process was overall an amazing person. If anyone I know ever need a hospice company recommendation, it will be for VistaRiver Hospice.

My mom was on hospice with VistaRiver and I don't think we could have had a better provider. From the very first visit I was truly impressed. My family was thoroughly educated and my mom was assessed. They provide many services and all the providers we met were so competent, compassionate and caring. I was able to call if I had concerns and we worked together. One of the nurses went out of her way to come on her day off and it truly was miraculous. She brightened my world!
